

15. Motohisa FUKUDA (Yamagata University)

Some classes of random quantum channels violating additivity

Abstract

In this talk, we discuss new classes of random quantum channels and show their violation of additivity by using Haagerup inequality. A similar technique was first introduced by Benoit Collins to prove the violation for mixed unitary channels, but we explore other examples.